

AOMs report - HBL

This does not have prepost but this is a great brain. Attributed to HBL. Coherence is almost perfect and the whole brain low beta is exceptional. My hypothesis is that many Facilitators would have brains like this with their own daily practice and doing multiple sessions on others. Also including some research on Brain coupling that happens when listening and understanding others on a neuronal level.